HEAD MEN ARRESTED

Warrants for Davis, Powers and Williams.

CHARGE IS MANSLAUGHTER

Compainant Lest Four Members of His Family.

Evidence Showing That There Was Reprehensible Lack of Precaution for Safety of Patrons.

Chicago, Jan. 2.-Formally charged with manslaughter, Managers Will J. Davis and Harry J. Powers of the Iroquois theater, with City Building Commissioner Williams, were today held under bonds of $10,000 each. Col. William Pinkerton and Charles H. Plamondon furnished bonds for Davis and Powers. Andrew J. Graham, a banker, furnished bond for Commissioner Williams.

Arthur E. Hull, whose family perished in the fire, and who was the complainant, was present when the two theater managers and the city official underwent the ordeal of facing the charges. The hearing of the cases was set for January 12th. The complainant, Mr. Hull, sald: ALL ARE GONE.

"My wife and my children, all I ever had to live for, are gone. All that remains is for me to make some one pay for this carclessness.

"A few carpenters and stage hands have been arrested. Men who sang in the chorus are in jail. Such an investigation is a cruel mockery. The men who are responsible are allowed to walk the streets untouched, while a few laborers are arrested. This has been the great calamity in the city's history and the authorities must understand that those who have suffered will not wait for them to daily along. There must not be any politics or favoritism in this investigation." MRS. POWERS HYSTERICAL.

The lateness of the hour at which the warrants were complete, nearly midnight. warrants were complete, nearly midnight, caused the complainant's attorney and Justice Underwood to think it would be sufficient for detectives to serve the warrants over the telephone.

Mrs. Powers answered to the telephone call at her husband's home in Grand boulevard, Detective James W. Cody requested her to tell Mr. Powers to hurry to Justice George W. Underwood's residence. Mrs. Powers immediately became hysterical, "Oh, he could not help that terrible ac-

'Oh, he could not help that terrible accident," she wailed over the telephone. "Our own little boy was there and he would not have been there if we had not thought the theater was safe."

WILLIAMS IS NOTIFIED. She was quieted and promised to inform both Mr. Powers and Mr. Davis, who were at the Powers theater, of the summary action which had been taken against them. Detective Cody assured her that if they came to the house the confusion of arresting them at their homes would be avoided. City Building Inspector Williams was reached at his home in Rhodes avenue.

"It's no surprise to me, but don't wor ry about me leaving town to dodge the consequences," he announced briefly "Can't I arrange to prepare and give bonds some time tomorrow?" ALL GIVE BONDS.

The arraignment took place at the home of Justice Underwood, where the accused of Justice Underwood, where the accused trio presented themselves, accompanied by counsel. An afficer read the warrants The complainant's attorney said:
"The purpose of this proceeding is, first to place these men under bonds and hold them by means of legal process. Secondly, Mr. Hull desires to force the authorities to a complete investigation of the ties to a complete investigation of the catastrophe. In the third place, if the official investigation is side-tracked onto small fry this proceeding will reach the persons who occupy the position of the keystone of the whole affair. LOOKED LIKE MOCKERY.

LOOKED LIKE MOCKERY.

"It appeared to my client to be a mockery to arrest stage carpenters and men and women in a minor capacity, while others who occupied much more prominent positions were allowed to go free. He feels that the responsibility ought to be xed upon whomever is guilty."

"On behalf of Mr. Davis and Mr. Powers, I will say that they are going to meet the issue squarely," said the defendants attorney. "Both have a clear conscience in this proceeding and intend to act their part as men should." This ended the proceedings for the present.

DAVIS VERY NERVOUS.

DAVIS VERY NERVOUS Will J. Davis appeared to feel the strain Will J. Davis appeared to feel the strain under which the defendants have been more acutely than the others. As newspaper photographers took a flash-light picture of the group in the house during the signing of the bonds, Mr. Davis would invariably jump when the powder was touched off and gave indications of extreme nervousness.

NO GAS TANK.

Stage Hands Claim That the Explosion in the Iroquois Was Caused by Breaking of Bulbs.

Chicago, Jan. 2.-From the stage hands Coroner Treager today learned the cause of the mysterious explosion which occurred shortly after the fire in the Iroquois theater was discovered. It was caused by the falling of a big fan scene which contained eighty incandescent electric lights. This scene was not in use at the time of the fire, but was set in the rear of the stage. The opening of the double doors in the rear of the stage created a draught which caused the big fan scene to topple over and break the incandescent bulbs. This produced a noise like an explosion.

The stage hands deny that there was a calcium tank on the stage at the time Coroner Treager has learned that each of the 189 drop scenes in the the-ater was hung on new, olly, Manila rope. It is estimated that there were 750 lineal feet of this inflammable ma-terial used in supporting the drop scenes and that it added fuel to the flames in the rigging loft.

RASH OFFICER MOBBED.

Clubbed Two Men Unconscious, and Crowd Threatened to Lynch Him, but Help Arrived.

New York, Jan. 2.-Policeman William Kenny has narrowly escaped death at the hand of a mob in West Sixtyninth street. It appears the policeman ran amuck and was beating with his club every person who came near him When rescued by brother officers, two men were found unconscious as a result of his efforts. Kenny also was badly used up

A rlot call brought a detail from the station house to the scene. Hundreds of people were found blocking the street and the police had to club their way and the police had to club their way through. At the erd of the street which is formed by a high wall they found Kenny, bruised and torn. A howling mob cut off his escape and they were howling. "Kill him." "Lynch him."

Two men who had fallen victims of Kenny's club were carried to the sidewalk. The officers had a hard time to get out with Kenny. however. They

The crowd surrounded the station and made ef-forts to enter a complaint against Kenny, but were refused admission and finally dispersed.

FLAMES LICK RECTORY.

"Little Church Around the Corner" Scorched and Several Lives Endangered by the Fire.

New York, Jan. 2.-Fire early today gutted the rectory of the famous 'Little Church Around the Corner," in East Twenty-ninth street. Four women servants were taken out of an upper story by firemen The Rev. Dr. Houghton, who was in his room, was almost overcome by the smoke when he awoke. He made his way to a rear window, from which he was rescued by firemen, and soon recovered, but had to procure clothing from

Miss Houghton, daughter of the rector, was rescued from the windows of her bedroom and carried down a ladder. Her maid jumped from the roof to a low extension, and was preparing for a leap to the yard when a fireman caught her. The fire was caused by a defective flue. Starting in the basement, it cut off all escape from the inmates. The prompt arrival of the firemen in response to an automatic alarm undoubtedly saved loss of life. The damage mounts to a few thousand dollars. For a time the church, which adjoins the rectory, was in danger of destruc-tion. Half a dozen streams were played against its walls, and it was not dam-

-BEFORE-DIEHL'S BAR

S. G. O'Brey swore off a year ago, Declared then he never would get drunk any more.

No whisky or beer Did he drink for a year,

Then on New Year's got drunker than ever before

In court yesterday he pledged a new oath, For to pay a big fine he was 'ceedingly leath.

"Just try me again, I'll shun wine and gin,' He said, and the court said: "Go forth."

Tom King was arraigned on the charge of being unlawfully drunk on January 1st, the day on which most people are engaged in swearing off. But Tom never did have much regard for the customs and traditions of polite society. On the occasion of his latest offense the old man had just been released from jall after serving the shortest sentence in his long and varied record of Police court senand varied record of Police court sentences. He had been sent up for two days with the understanding that his G. A. R. comrades had found a home for the dissipated old veteran and that they were going to assist him in starting the new year on an entirely new tack. He explained to the court that no one had come after him so he had taken the necessary steps to get back as quickly as possible in the only home that has been known to him for some time past—that is, he got drunk. He was given the customary thirty days.

Officer Brown made a statement to the effect that Jim Smith, a cripple, had ac costed him on the street and demanded that he be given money.
"I don't care wheder youse is a pleeceman or a son-of-a-gun." Smith said.
"Youse looks all alike ter me. What I wants is der coin; see? Now, dig up.
"Why did you abuse the officer?" asked the court of Smith.
"I guess I was drunk."
Judge Diehl gave him the benefit of the implied doubt and made his sentence ten days.

Nina Madsen, Pearl Curtis and Madge Shires were held on preliminary hearing to the District court to answer to the charge of incorrigibility. The girls are about 15 years old bright appearing and quite pretty, but the evidence showed that they have been in the habit of running the streets at all times of the day and night and that their record for morality is not what it should be. In holding the girls for trial before a higher court Judge Diehl said:

"The court has no disposition to punish the girls for trial before a higher court Judge Diehi said:

"The court has no disposition to punish these girls. It is not punishment that is needed. What they do need is a place where they can be taken care of and controlled. The parents of the accused have proven themselves wholly incompetent to provide them with such a home and to hold over them the restraint from evil ways which is required by girls of this age if they are to make useful women. I am not sure that the industrial school is the best place for them, but I deem it best to have the District court pass upon their cases and if in the meantime it can be shown that they can be provided with suitable homes outside of the reform school I shall be only too glad to recommend that they be given another chance."

The girls wept bitterly while they were in court, but the County Attorney stated that with the possible exception of the shires girl, their tears were not genuine.

"They are wholly without remorse and are really defiant in their sin," said the attorney.

Bonds for the girls were fixed at $50

EXPERTS AT ACCOUNTS.

Unfavorable Rumors Regarding the Finances of Commission Leads to Examination.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2 -- Treasury department experts today instituted an investigation of the accounts of the Interstate Commerce commission. The action is taken at the instance of Acting Chairman Clements of the commission, as a result of persistent rumors of irregularities in the drawing of vouchers, etc. When the expert accountants, Nathaniel L. Ambrose, Richard H. Taylor and James L. Chase, reached the commission today, they scaled the safe and examined Secretary Edward A Moslay, H. S. Milstend, the cashier, and other employees. Milstead has not been sus-

Acting Commissioner Clements stated today that he did not know that anything was wrong, but that the rumors had become so persistent that they could no longer be ignored, and the Treasury department therefore was asked to take charge of accounts. Mr. Moseley is under $25,000 bonds as disbursing officer.

WIDOW OF NAPOLEON.

Empress Eugenie Is Seriously Ill From Blood Poisoning Caused by Scratch of Hat Pin.

Paris, Jan. 2.-Empress Eugenie is seriously ill at the Hotel Continental. The cause is a deep accidental puncture in her cheek from a hat pin. Her face has swollen, and it is feared blood polsoning has set in.

Owing to the Empress' age and feebleness, physicians fear a grave result. The ex-Empress is 70 years old. Sh was married to Napoleon III, in 1853 and for many years after her flight from Paris in 1870 lived in retirement in England. She has recently taken up her residence in Paris.

Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Mrs. Johanna Soderholm of Fergus Falls, Minn, fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a hottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep, which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended
